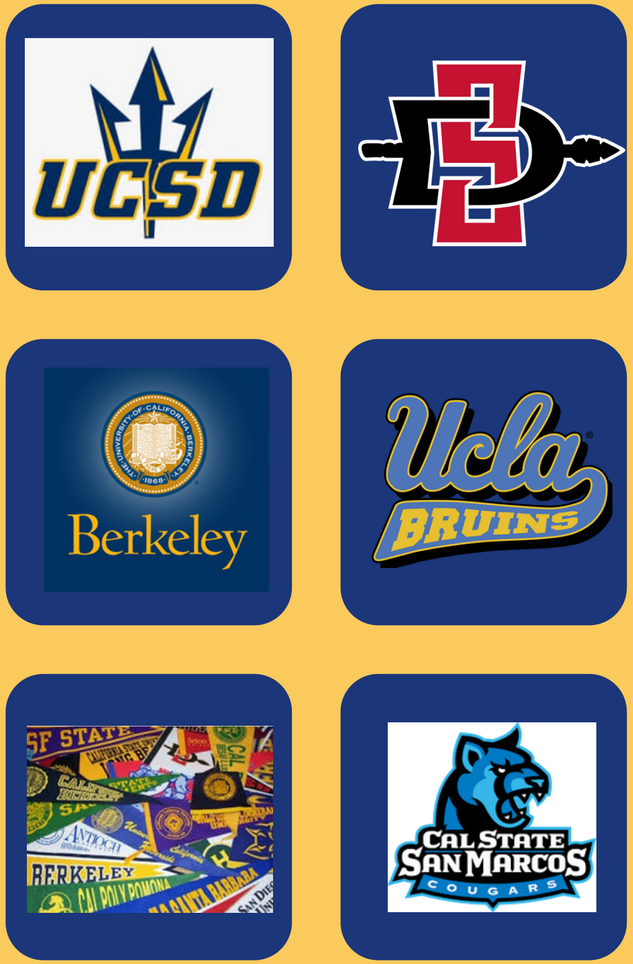
Next Steps

You've applied to transfer, now what?

San Diego Mesa College | Transfer Career & Evaluations

WORKSHOP GOALS:

- Understand next steps for transfer to a four-year college or university
- Understand terms used in the process of transferring
- Understand orientation and registration details
- Participate in question and answer

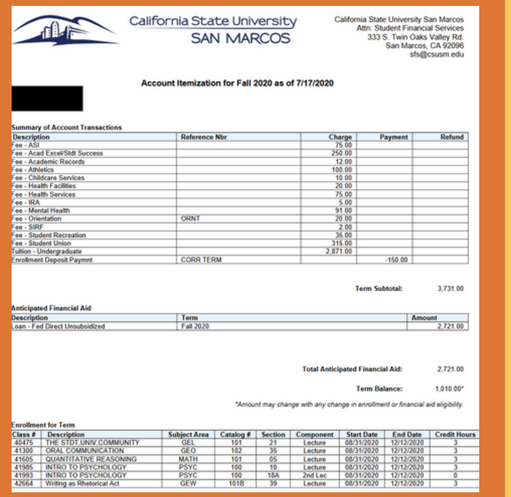


What's Inside The Portal?

Each Portal is Unique

- Portals can look differently depending on view from desktop, laptop, tablet, or mobile phone
- Same information different places
- All schools have a different layout for their portals
- Check your spam/junk mail
- Allow emails from your admitted schools

Sample Portals



Student Portal

- When you applied you should have received a college ID number
- This number provides you access to your admissions status
- This is where you will find most of your information to complete the transfer process.
- After you are admitted this is where you log in to conduct all of your admissions steps
- Such as but not limited to:
  - Activate school ID
  - Find TO DO list
  - Process intent to enroll Check financial aid status
  - Always check your portal
  - When in doubt check your portal

Complete Intent to Enroll

- The intent to enroll is slightly different depending on the college or university you plan to attend.
- Intent to enroll is the process of “committing” to the four-year college this is usually done by May 1 for the CSUs and on June 1 the UCs
- Private or out of state have different deadlines. Always check the Portal.
- You should complete this process for one school.
- Requires a “deposit” which can be waived depending on financial aid offers non-refundable-goes toward registration fees
- This process is done through your portal.

Fall Steps to Apply

Fall 2021 Transfer Admission

San Diego State University is accepting applications from upper-division transfer students between October 1 and December 15 for admission the following fall.

We receive applications from thousands of highly qualified applicants each year. Applicants are admitted based on intended major, so you must choose a major when you apply to SDSU. Learn how to make your application more competitive by closely reviewing the admission requirements on this website.

On December 1, the California State University (CSU) application deadline for fall 2021 admission was extended from December 4 to December 15.

MAY 15

Applicants selected for Waitlist

Select applicants will be invited to opt in to our waitlist through their Applicant Portal.

Transfer applicants must opt in by 11:59 pm PST on May 15.

Being on the waitlist does not guarantee an offer of admission. We strongly urge students to accept another university's admission offer before the appropriate deadline to ensure they have secured a spot at an institution.

By August 1, final decisions will be released to applicants who opt in to the waitlist. There is no appeal process for the waitlist.

MAY 15

Appeals for Applicants Not Offered Admission or Waitlist

Every application to UC San Diego is reviewed thoroughly. Admission decisions are made carefully to meet the enrollment goals of the university. Therefore, successful appeals are very rare.

Applicants who have new and compelling academic information that was not presented in their original application, may submit an appeal through their Applicant Portal by May 15. No appeals will be accepted after the deadline. Waitlisted students may not appeal.

JUNE 1

Deadline to Accept UC San Diego's Offer of Admission
